

Rocket Nine a REP w Scrum Alliance, but not with PMI directly. Scrum Alliance carries the PDU qualification for all CSM courses.

Use the non-REP workflow...

Here is a recent guide I've found to submit PDUs from a non-REP 3rd party provider of training like Rocket Nine Solutions.

To claim your PDUs, follow the steps for getting training from a 3rd party provider:

1. Log into the CCRS system (<https://ccrs.pmi.org/login/index?ReturnUrl=%2f>)
2. Once you log in, you need to click on 'Report PDUs'.
3. Click on 'Course or Training' under Education.
4. If you have taken a course or activity offered by a third-party vendor which is not pre-approved by PMI® for its PDUs, you just need to type the name of the provider into the field and do not select any provider from the list.
5. Typing three letters into the Activity field will search for any activity which matches in the CCRS directory. Do NOT select any activity from the list if you have taken a course or training activity from a third-party vendor, as it will pre-populate the rest of the form with the information from a pre-approved provider and activity. You just simply need to type the activity name into the field.
6. You need to complete all the fields to provide the details for the claim is you have taken education activities offered by third-party vendors who are not pre-approved by PMI®.
7. You need to manually enter PDU values under the Technical skill area if you have taken training from any third-party provider. Again, you need to enter PDU values for Leadership and Strategic skill areas manually. If you hold multiple certifications, these PDUs will automatically be shared across all your certifications.
8. Click on 'I agree this claim is accurate'.
9. You need to submit your PDU claim.
